You pay no admission, just enjoy good chili and company!

Bob is a force in the local food movement in the Canton area, and in educating people about the benefits of growing and eating locally. He and his partner, Flip, own and operate littleGrasse Foodworks, a "garden project" that welcomes all people genuinely interested in gaining more knowledge of food issues, preservation techniques, and gardening skills. Their CSA encourages a meaningful connection with the foods participants consume daily, and requires member involvement in the garden during the growing season.
