

Making CSA affordable for people on limited incomes.

Community Supported Agriculture is a way to buy local seasonal food directly from a farmer.

At the beginning of the season, you purchase a "share" of whatever the farm produces for that season, and each week you get a box with your share in it; typically it's vegetables, but it can also be fruit, meat, maple syrup, eggs, herbs, or whatever the farm grows.

Here's how it works...

First, determine if you qualify by using the chart to the right. The total gross yearly income of all your household members combined must be at or below these levels. (If you are a dependent on someone else's tax return who does not meet these levels, you do not qualify for CSA Bonus Bucks.) Limit: one per household per year.

No. of people in your household	Annual income
1	$41,000
2	$49,000
3	$56,000
4	$64,000
5 or more	$71,000

Second, choose a CSA from the list on the back of this flier. Every farm works differently, produces different food, has different seasons, different drop-off or pick-up options, and different pricing; some have full shares and half shares depending on the size of your family or your needs, some offer different payment options, some offer the opportunity to work at the farm. Each farm is different, so you need to find a CSA farm that works for you and join. Ask for references, talk to your friends and neighbors. Talk to the farmers. Make sure the CSA farm you choose meets the needs and desires of you and your family.

Third, fill out the information below and give this form directly to the CSA farm you choose to purchase a share from, along with your payment. You can receive half the original cost from GardenShare Bonus Bucks, up to a max Bonus Bucks value of $250, and pay the rest yourself. For instance, if you pick a $350 share, you would be awarded $175 of Bonus Bucks. However, if your share costs $550, half of which is $275, you would receive $250 of Bonus Bucks.

You may be able to pay for the rest of your share with your EBT/I If this option interests you, please call for details: 315-261-8054.	Food Stamp benefits.

CSA Bonus Bucks is a program of GardenShare, a nonprofit organization that works to make wholesome food available to all of us.

GardenShare is not itself a CSA farm. We simply introduce you to CSA farms that accept our CSA Bonus Bucks.

The list above is for reference. Please contact the farms directly for more information about shares, plans and costs.

GardenShare does not certify or endorse any of the CSA farms listed here. It is your responsibility to choose a farm that meets your needs.

Funding for CSA Bonus Bucks is generously provided by Sweetgrass Foundation, Upper NY Annual Conference of the United Methodist Women, and GardenShare supporters.
